DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is responsive to the communication August 18, 2006; claims 16-27 are pending in this instant application; claims 16-18 are withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to non-elected invention; and claims 1-15 have been canceled.
2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 18, 2006 has been entered.
3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim August have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 19-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The material as claimed is considered as printed media which is not being within the statutory class. The media as claimed is a printed material obtained by forming an image using a photothermographic material. See MPEP , 706.03(a), under Printed Matter which states, "For example, a mere arrangement of printed matter, though seemingly a "manufacture," is rejected as not being within the statutory classes. See In re Miller, 418 F.2d 1392, 164 USPQ 46 (CCPA 1969); Ex parte Gwinn, 112 USPQ 439 (Bd. App. 1955); and In re Jones, 373 F.2d 1007, 153 USPQ 77 (CCPA 1967).".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 19-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Shoji (US Patent No. 6,569,614) or EP 0600586B1 (EP'586) in combination of Boulet et al (US Patent No. 5,953,039). The photothermographic material has been known in the art such as taught in Shoji and EP'586. See photothermographic material that having D_{min} and D_{max} after thermally processing. See, Shoji, Figs. 3-6 on sheet 2-3 and D_{min} and D_{max} in column 8, lines 17-67, wherein $D_{min} \leq 0.25$ and $D_{max} \geq 2.5$, and Fig. 6 which discloses a region that has density less than D_{max} and greater than D_{min} ; and EP'586 as a whole especially the samples in Tables 1-7 on pages 9-22; pages 2, lines 34-57 to page 3, lines 1-20, and page 12, example 28 wherein the protective topcoat layer containing isocyanate; and the binder on pages 7, lines 49-54 including methacrylate copolymers. Boulet et al disclose a printing apparatus using in the process of forming a printing image of the present claimed invention. See Fig. 1 of Boulet in comparison with Fig. 1 of the present invention. It would have been obvious to use a known image processor to form a printed image on the material taught in either Shoji or EP'586, and thereby provide a printing image as claimed.
